REMARKS.

Once again it becomes our duty to present the annual report of our schools. Although three of our teachers had never taught before, we found them earnest, striving to do their best, and they are to be congratulated upon the success that attended their efforts; those who had taught before came fully up to our expectations. We feel that commendable progress was made by all the scholars.

In one of our schools no tardy marks were shown on the register, thus showing that it is not necessary for pupils to be tardy. The greatest trouble in some of the schools is irregular attendance; parents who keep their children from school for any trivial excuse are doing, not only their children, but the whole school, an injury. In one of our schools fifteen, which was half of the school, were not absent or tardy for one term.

This past year we thought it best to change readers, as the ones in use had been in the schools for several years. These are the property of the town, and should be carefully used.

It seems that during the past year the parents have been more in sympathy with the teachers, and our schools have been more successful than heretofore.
